

In this drawing, rubber feet are added on the side to show the dimensions of the robot controller vertically mounted.
Normally, four rubber feet are attached to the bottom surface.

Normally, four rubber feet are attached to the bottom surface.